

The People beside Paul: The Philippian Assembly and History from Below, 2015, Joseph A. Marchal

Paul in Macedonia. 3. The Philippian. Besides, he genuinely liked the American people and respected their altruism toward his country and people. Pacific Affairs is a peer-reviewed, independent, and interdisciplinary scholarly journal focussing on important current political, economic and social issues throughout Asia and the Pacific. Each issue contains approximately five new articles and 40-45 book reviews. Published continuously since 1928 under the same name, Pacific Affairs has been located on the beautiful campus of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, since 1961. The journal is committed to providing to the scholarly community and the world at large high quality research on Asia and the customer takes readers beyond the headlines and across multiple disciplines.

Description: The Proceedings of the American Political Science Association, published from 1903 until 1914, was the association's first journal of record. The Proceedings printed the learned papers delivered at APSA's annual convention in addition to summaries of panel and business discussions. assembly of the Philippine Exposition itself. Description: Philippine Studies: Historical and Ethnographic Viewpoints is an internationally refereed journal that book articles and other materials on the history of the Philippines and its peoples, both in the homeland and overseas. It believes the past is illuminated by historians as well as scholars from other disciplines; at the same time, it prefers ethnographic approaches to the history of the present. Its review are theoretically informed but not encumbered by jargon. It promotes a comparative and transnational sensibility, and seeks to engage scholars who may not be specialists on the Philippines. Founded in 1953 as Philippine Studies, the journal is published quarterly by the Ateneo de Manila University through its School of Social Sciences.

